This free three-day course will train you to be a Worker Occupational Safety and Health (WOSH) Specialist. You will learn key occupational health & safety concepts and how to take a leadership role in promoting health & safety at your own workplace. The training is “hands on,” interactive, and fun. You must attend all three days to receive the certificate of completion. The course is presented by UC Berkeley’s Labor Occupational Health Program (LOHP).

You’ll Learn About:

- Workplace Injury and Illness Prevention
- Identifying and Controlling Hazards
- Safety Rights and Responsibilities
- Workers’ Compensation
- Cal/OSHA
- Strategies for Taking Action
- Chemical Safety
- Health and Safety Committees
- Ergonomics
- Roles of a WOSH Specialist

You will receive a free health and safety course binder, a chance to share ideas and strategies with employees from other workplaces, and a certificate of completion as a WOSH Specialist.

Instructors: Robin Dewey, MPH
Alejandra Domenzain, MPH
